

Khecari Mudra ~ Yogi Mahesvara

Car = moving around, circulating or taking off.

kha≈akasa = emptiness abiding, flying or dancing...

Space

When the Divine Goddess Takes off in Inner Space

A tantric practice partaking in the mystic Union of Siva & Sakti within the yogi/
yogini.

Tantric goddess...
Her essence is "great passion"
free from selfishness & illusion.
Works for the well-being of others
and the destruction of ego-clinging.

- The tongue is lengthened by regular stretching & the lawn tendon under the tongue may be cut.
- The tongue is to be pushed against the soft palate.
- And further up into the nasal cavity.

is the Sanskrit word for 'life force' in Hindu philosophy.

- A Kosha is a 'sheath' & there are 5 covering the Atman, or supreme self.

- "Clean up your traumas & you will again become what you truly are."

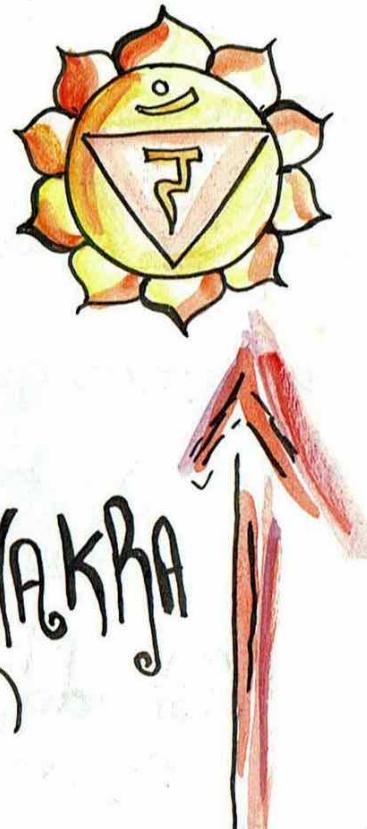

- Samskaras (in Indian philosophy) are mental impressions, recollections or psychological imprints. They explain karmic occurrences as the result of these deep imprints.

- Apana is what governs eliminative functions,
the exhale and the downward & outward flow of energy.

By reversing the flow of apana so that it rises towards the navel during exhalation as the prana too descends to the navel, one may awaken the

* MANIPURA CHAKRA

(Solar Plexus)

- Antara Kumbhaka ~ Pause at a completed inhale
- Bahya Kumbhaka ~ Pause at a completed exhale

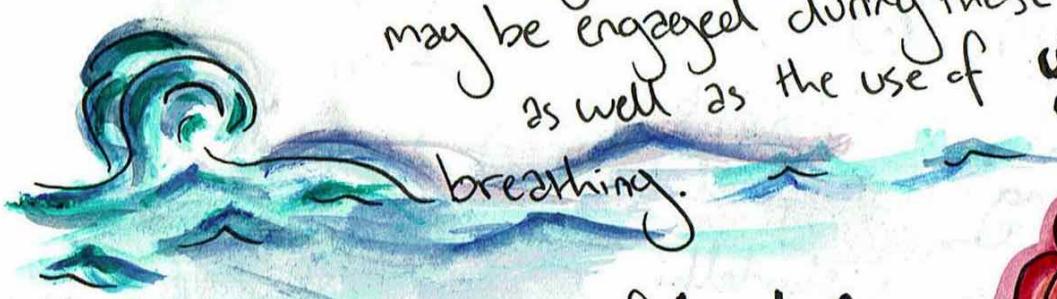

root → Mula Bandha

throat → Jalandhara Bandha

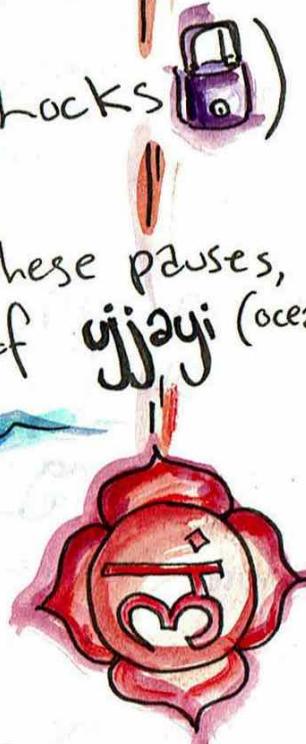

abdominal → Uddiyana Bandha

(locks)

may be engaged during these pauses,
as well as the use of ujjayi (ocean)
breathing.

- ★ It is the awakening of Kundalini (Muladhara) in Manipura

"The sensation is highly sensual: that sweetness, that sensitivity remind me of the vaginal entrance, a little bit under the clitoris..."

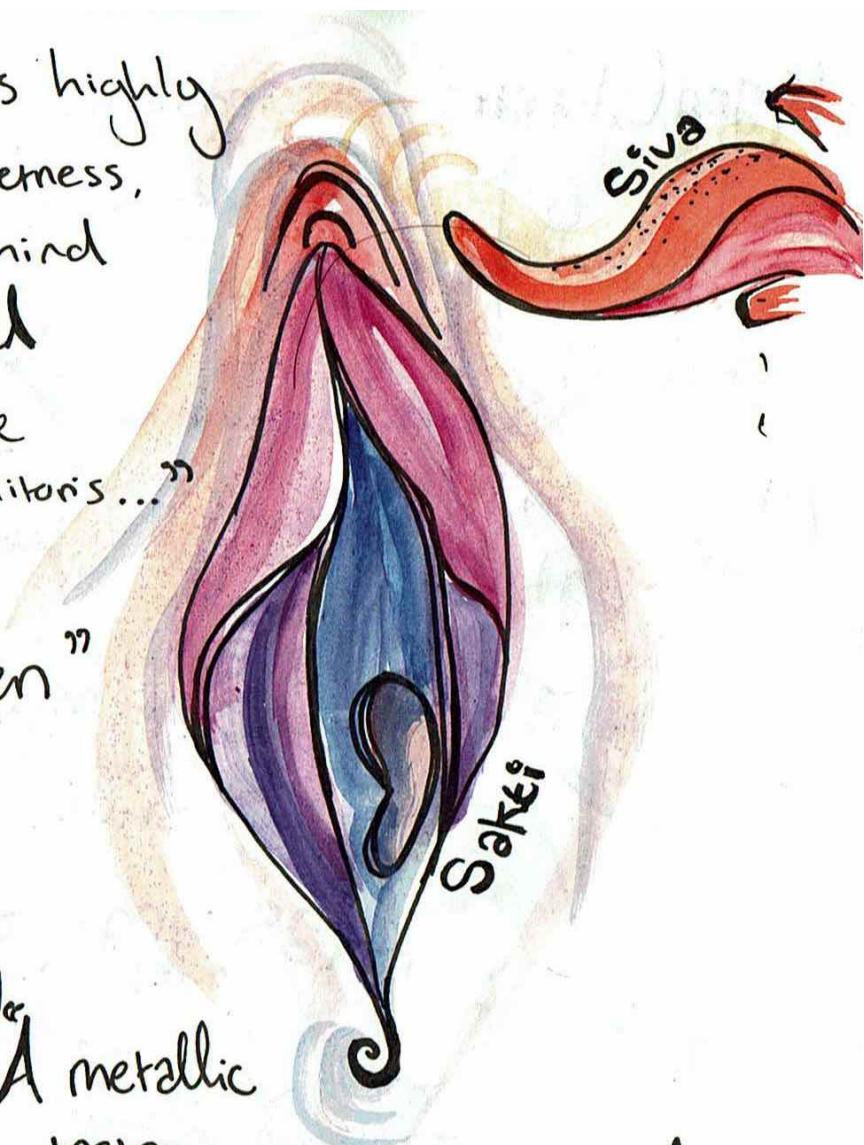

"Union can happen"

"A metallic taste..."

"a taste I experienced with Mescaline, psilocybin & LSD"

"I am experiencing the effects of a powerful psychoactive substance secreted by my own organism & catalysed by the Divine mudra!"

• Nauli Kriya ~ Abdominal undulations

- After cutting the frenum the tongue can slip behind the soft palate to rest on the floor of the nasal cavity.

- "When the nervous system is ready, it just happens.
The tongue wants to go back."

Vishuddhi Chakra
(The Throat Chakra)

Nectar of immortality

"When Amrita starts to percolate from bindu, it is first passing through lalana before reaching vishuddhi and continuing its way to be consumed in manipura."

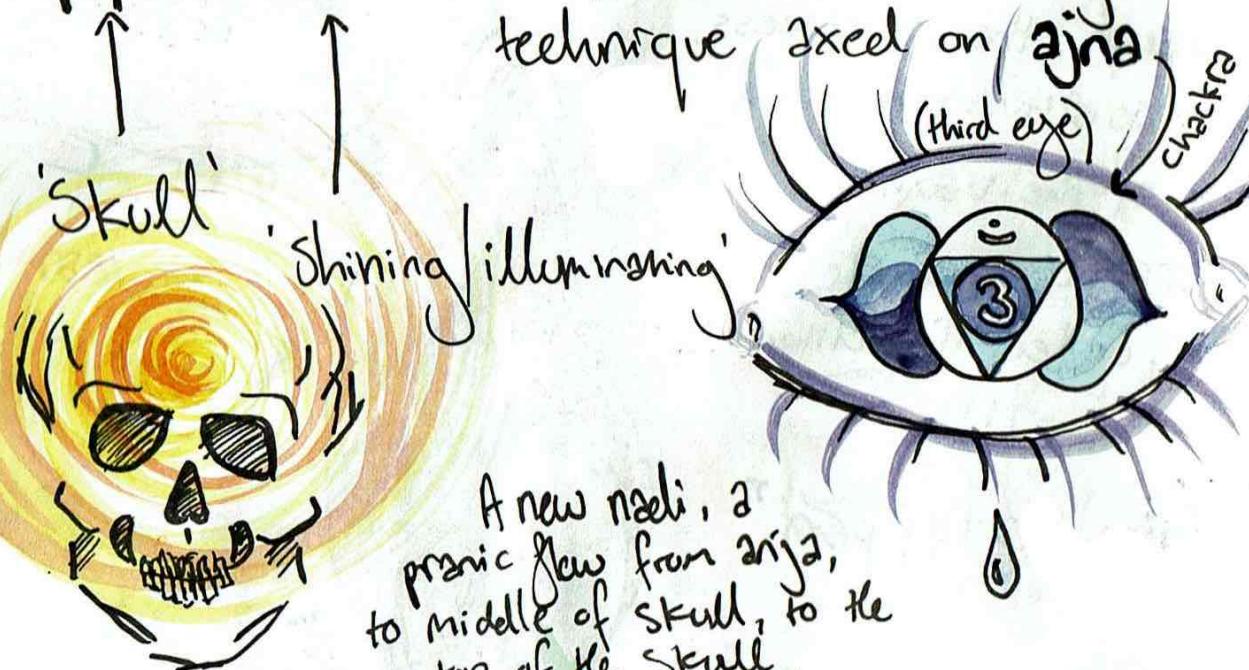

Lalana Chakra
(a minor chakra associated with the throat chakra)

Jawing for the doorts of the moon.

Manifestation of consciousness ...

Kapalabhati ~ a powerful breathing

A new nadi, a pranic flow from ajna,
to middle of skull, to the top of the skull.

Sahasrara
(crown) Chakra

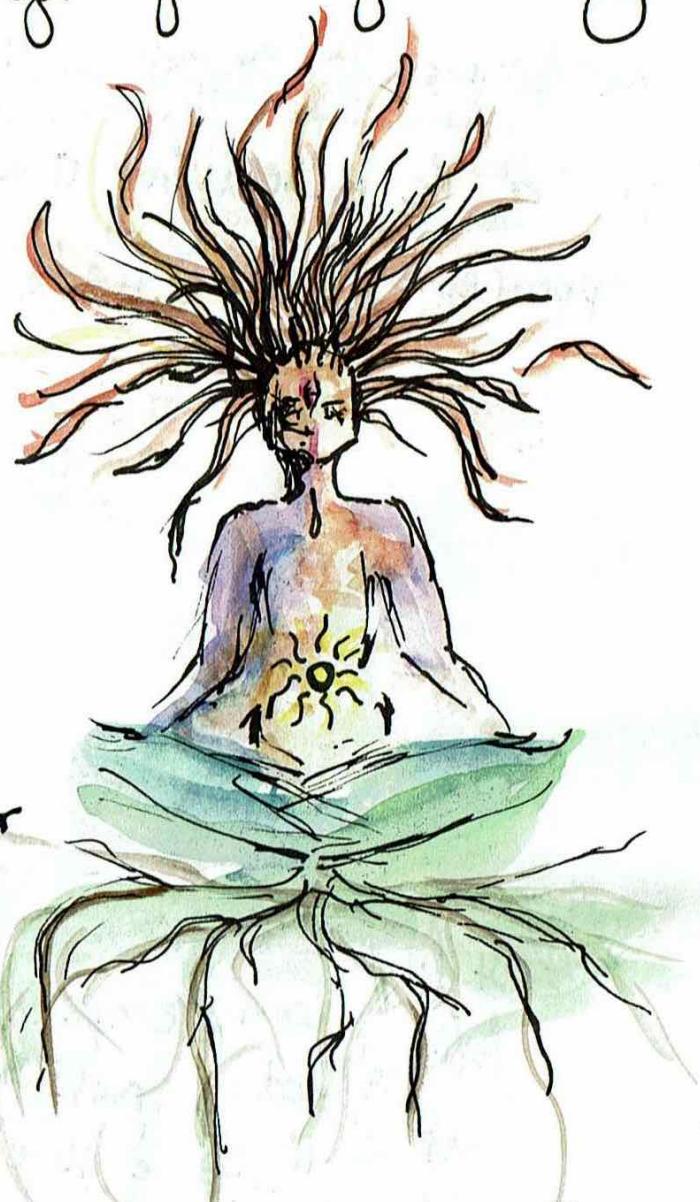

"... there where time becomes irrelevant." 33

• Another 'anchoring point': Hair ~ "I observe that if I position my hairs on top of the skull it is helping the energetic flux to go that way."

The hair knot Shares informations
with moolabhranda, Krecari & shambavi.

The more the hair locks & gets mingled and thickens, the bigger the quantity of prana that is going to pass through it.

• "if I walk barefoot on Earth I can feel the telluric energy entering me through my feet & circulating inside my body."

• "Everything takes place as if I was supposed to transform myself into a tube connecting Sky & Earth."

'Vijnanamaya Kosha is the link between the individual & universal mind. Inner knowledge comes to the conscious mind from this level... one begins to experience life at an intuitive level, to see the underlying reality behind outer appearances. This leads to wisdom.'

"Just like some emptiness that has been fully filled up, nothing exists anymore but at the same time everything is there."

'Like a déjà vu my body recognises the Original Signal.'

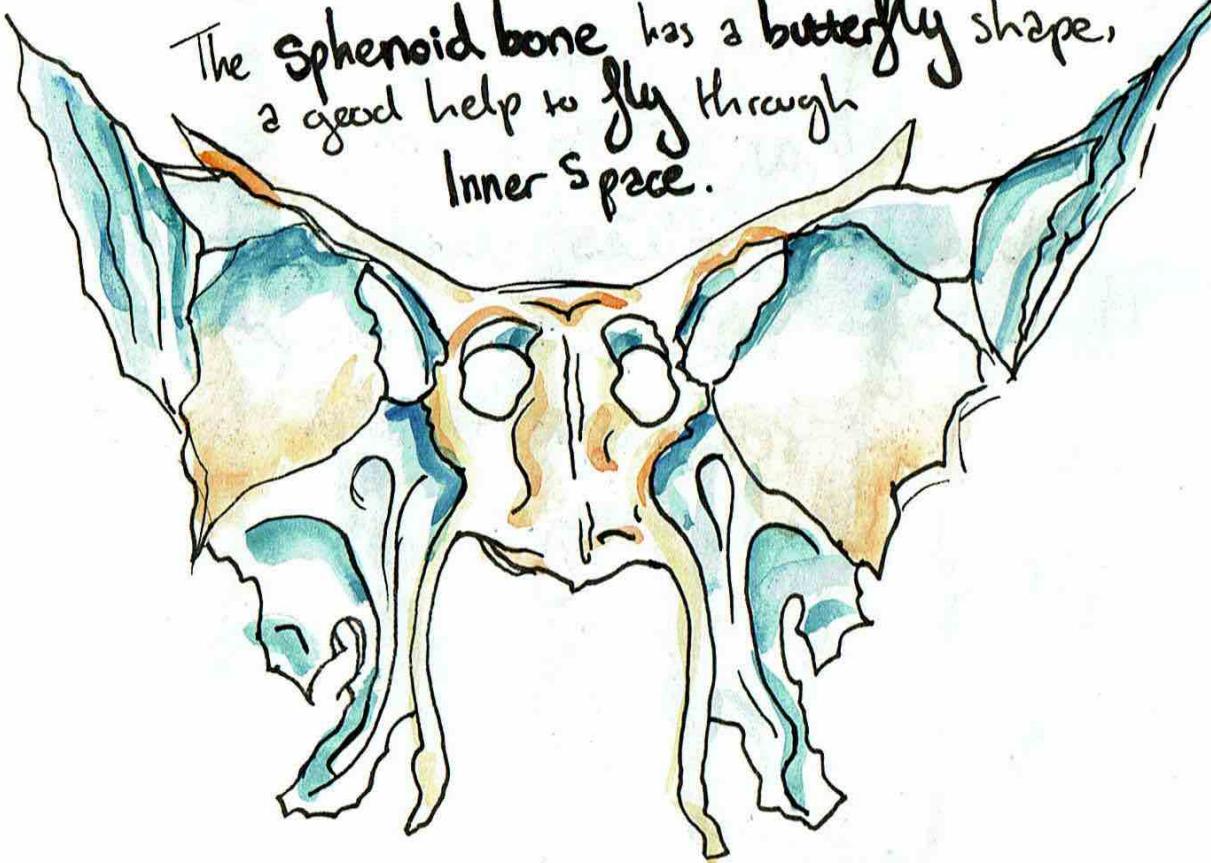

Khecari Mudra ~ continued...

Why does Shakti take off (in inner space?)

~ She wants to reach her cosmic lover

Siva.

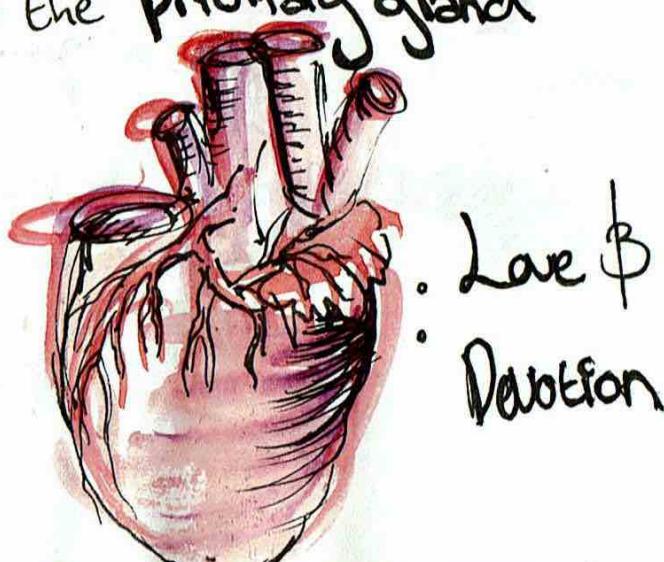

The sphenoid bone has a butterfly shape,
a good help to fly through Inner Space.

The tongue climbs to touch the sella turcica that shelters the pituitary gland

A new fuel, a new nourishment:

Bhakti

God
is just a static principle and it is only through his Sakti that he can manifest his power. She is the one bringing the power and capacity for action.

- Pragmatically, the reality of divinities rests in their capacity to connect us to the Divine: the important thing is, that it works. The large number of divinities corresponds to the people's diversity

We must lower all our defenses and abandon ourselves sincerely, either a safety net & without the possibility of returning to our old ways.

Samadhi

A state of intense concentration achieved through meditation; Regarded in Hindu yoga as the final stage, at which union with the divine is realized.

A deity or the Divine may be called /summoned through the practice of Asanas or Mantras.

"I started to consider the asana as an exteriorisation of the Sakti."

Sakti feels at home & mixes herself in the whole body with the aim of seducing her cosmic lover, Siva.

The physical body has no choice but to bow to all her wishes

The divine call is bound to come to everyone for Siva, the eternal Spirit, has resolved himself into jivas, transient beings, and every creature has to become reconverted.

again into Siva.

Just as water freezes into ice, and ice melts into water, so this play of transformation of Siva

into jiva and jiva

into Siva

goes on and on through

Eternity

Yagna:

A sacred fire

Lotus

position = Padmasana

"... I realise that my body sways tuned to the sound (of the mantra), in the sense that movements get coordinated with the moving of the spatial energetical flux generated by the sound... My torso starts to Udesign circles in shape of a horizontal eight. I then 'see' the... the sign mantra moving as well as an eight."

the infinite,

to

the sign

the

Postures & breathing techniques are not necessary, simply chanting in devotion & love of the Divine can be enough. Bhakti.

"I am now able to close the air passages in a given nostril by blocking the nasal cavity with the tip of my tongue."

Dahan Kriya

Milking the tongue
for stretching

Direct activation of ajna as the tongue goes directly to it & feels an increased density of prana.

"It pulses very strongly"
Churning changes
ajna

"Patience, perseverance, gratitude &
most of all total and full

Surrender & confidence in the Divine are the ingredients of success."

In Sanskrit the frenum is called:

Bandhamritayur : 'the death link'

The bond of death

"The reason for us to be here: to realise the Mystic Union within ourselves."

Awakened & nourished
by yoga practice, Sakti
is totally decided to join her cosmic
lover Siva that is waiting for her on top of mount Meru.

"Initially the body needs to receive the amritas flow, but once the practice is well established Khecari is rather pushing to seal the passage."

"The Kundalini phenomenon is universal: every human being possessing a spine is endowed of a Kundalini aiming to awaken."

The Kundalini:
latent female energy lying coiled at the base of the spine.

Sanskrit: 'Snake'

Perfectly attuned to support ascending Pranic movement.

It is possible to practise alternate nostril breathing by using the tongue to block one nostril from the inside.

In the third stage of Khecari the tongue climbs behind the nasal Septum into the nasal pharynx to reach the Stella turcica.

In the fourth stage the thinned tip of the tongue enters the nasal passages internally to climb the summit of the nasopharynx towards Ajna

The Gardener's Mudra

- Asana: Sitting posture

- Anchoring Points:

moola bandha, shambai,
khecari & hair knot.

- Pranayama: Square breathing in sama vritti:
inhale, retain, exhale,
retain, repeat...

Visualisation:

Inhale - lotus petals of selected chakra open

Retention - Petals open & close.

Exhale - Petals open up

Mantra: bija mantra
for each lotus.

Sahasrara

Ajna

Vishuddhi

Anahata

Manipura

Swadhisthana

Muladhara

Watering our inner garden...